FRIDAY NIGHT, Jan. 27 was set aside as Family Night at Brighton Junior High School. This program was designed as an effort to acquaint the parents with the teachers, and to develop a stronger relationship among the parents, teachers and students.

The general theme for this program was "The Problems of Youth in This Changing Society." John Jackson was narrator of the panel discussion which included the following participants and subjects: Mrs. Rosa Hannon, "Problems of Youth Socially"; Mrs. Lena Kennedy, "Problems of Youth Physically"; Mrs. Adrian Battle, "Problems of Youth Morally"; Mrs. Ruberta Milligan, "Problems of Youth Spiritually"; Mrs. Florida Hamilton, "Problems of Youth Mentally." After a summary of the panel discussion, a short question and answer period was allowed for persons in the audience. This was followed by remarks from the principal.

After the conclusion of the program, the parents and teachers were served by the refreshment committee composed of Mrs. Elzo Martin and Mrs. Maude Perkins. Members of the program committee were Mrs. Christine Shack and Mrs. Gertrude Cole. Mrs. Alma Oliver is president of the PTA.

Members of the PTA of Brighton Junior High School are taking a very active interest in the school and its program. Recently the organization had a concrete walk constructed in the court leading from one building to the other and encircling the court.

Robert McIntosh is principal of the school.

MRS. MARGARET FINCH, teacher at Dunbar High, was in charge of the chapel program last Friday which featured a discussion of the importance of higher education by Mrs. Geraldine H. Moore. The program was presented by members of the division of the Senior Class of which Mrs. Finch is the adviser.

In emphasizing the probable consequences of "following the path of least resistance," students of the class presented an original skit. Marcus Craig, principal of the Sixty-First-st School in Fairfield, participated on the program as guest soloist. Serving as pianist and director of other musical numbers on the program was Mrs. F. Pigrom Wright, instructor of Music at Dunbar. Remarks by the principal, J. C. Abrams, brought the program to a close.

FUNERAL services for the late Mrs. Ophelia C. Goodgame were held at the Sixth-av Baptist Church Feb. 1 at 3 p.m.

The Rev. L. M. Turner, moderator of the Mount Pilgrim District Association delivered the eulogy.

Mrs. Goodgame, a native of Texas, held the Bachelor of Science Degree from Bishop College, Marshall, Tex., and taught in the public schools of that state for a number of years.

She was president of the Mt. Pilgrim Women's District Association for 25 years. She was a life member of the Women's Convention, auxiliary to the National Baptist Convention, U. S. A., Inc. She served as president of the Missionary Society of the Sixth-av Baptist Church. She was a former Sunday School teacher and member of the Deaconess Board. She also held membership in the Baptist Minister Wives Alliance and the Periclean Study Club. She was active in educational, civic and religious circles. In all these endeavors, she exemplified the true qualities of a devout woman.

Surviving are two sons, Carlton C. Wells, science instructor at Parker High School; Roscoe W. Wells, athletic coach at Wenonah High School, and a daughter, Mrs. Vera Wells Johnson, history teacher at Parker High. She also leaves three grandchildren, James Carlton Johnson, Janice Carol and Rosalyn M. Wells; two sisters, Mrs. A. B. Hardge of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. M. A. Allen of Marshall, Tex., and other relatives.

THE ABRAHAM LINCOLN Republican Club will have its annual banquet March 23 at 8 p.m. at the Smithfield Court auditorium.

Speaker for this occasion will be Val J. Washington, director of Minorities, Republican National Committee.

THE PUBLIC is invited to attend a program today at 4 p.m. at the 18th-st branch YMCA, which will feature representatives of local business enterprises owned and operated by Negroes. A discussion will be held of factors which have contributed to their success, as well as some of the things which have tended to hamper progress.

The program is being sponsored by a newly-organized "Good Neighbor Fellowship," whose membership comprises six matrons of the Eureka community, Mrs. Mary Grayson, Mrs. Gussie Harris, Mrs. Rose Marie Harris, Mrs. Geraldine Johnson, Mrs. Geraldine H. Moore and Mrs. Mary Alice White. The club which was organized in January, has for its major purpose, to inspire to greater love of God and man through the exemplification of this ideal. Using as a motto, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," members have planned all of their programs and projects around this theme.

Religious and civic organizations, especially, are urged to send representatives to the program.

Mrs. Geraldine H. Moore is president.
